

Spectrum Pacific Learning

e-learning solutions to help you achieve your goals.

One Source, Many Solutions

Design

We'll move your existing course content to the online learning environment, usually within 30 days, and provide you with the tools – and the technical support – you need to measure the outcomes of your e-learning program.

Develop

We'll create a start-from-scratch e-learning solution and work closely with you to meet all of your needs. We'll ensure you receive engaging instructional design, course delivery, and multimedia interactivity.

Deliver

Flexible by design, we can work with your existing course delivery platform, build you a custom e-learning solution, or launch your courses on our partner platform.

▶ Spectrum Pacific Learning is fast becoming renowned as a leader in effective online course design. SPL is a premier provider of e-learning training, helping content developers design and deliver effective online programs.

Design. Develop. Deliver.

Spectrum Pacific Learning Company's e-Learning Solutions and Services

SPL's Superior Services and Solutions Include:

Content Design & Development: We make quality content our top priority in order to maximize the learning experience. Our instructional designers can build your courseware from the ground up, or reengineer existing content for the online environment. We guarantee our courseware to be interactive, engaging, and effective to diverse learning styles, whether they are visual, auditory, or hands-on learners. We've developed more than 1,000 academic and corporate courses ranging from basic to advanced levels. We offer a library of over 400 ready-to-go courses for curricula licensing.

Consulting Services: SPL professionals will help you navigate through the e-learning process. We will assess your needs, examine your goals, create a custom solution for your institution, implement the solution, and work with you to ensure that your program grows and succeeds.

Supported Solutions: SPL offers some of the best support services in the industry. We're live 24 hours a day, seven days a week to answer your technical questions and assist you.
